

mxHero Secure Scan to Email

An Additional Layer of Email Security—Exclusive to Canon

The mxHero Secure Scan to Email device license brings the power of mxHero's Mail2Cloud platform to your multifunction printers by replacing scan-to-email attachments with a cloud storage link. This solution, only available with Canon imageRUNNER ADVANCE or imageCLASS devices, provides an additional layer of email security—whether your workforce is working in the office or at home.

How mxHero Secure Scan to Email Works

mxHero Secure Scan to Email—via intelligent uploading and sharing of scanned documents through secure cloud storage links—allows you to better secure, control, and track documents you scan to email. When you scan a document to email using the device-native Universal Send functionality, uniFLOW, or Authorized Send, it's first routed with encryption to mxHero's Secure Scan to Email service. Based on your configuration, the service then automatically moves the scanned document to your cloud storage service. mxHero Secure Scan to Email takes advantage of compatible, existing cloud storage services, so you don't need to manage yet another file repository. Finally, an email with a cloud storage link is sent to the original destination of the scanned document. And it's seamless for your workforce, too, as users need only follow their usual scan-to-email process.
